Examples from 2016 – 2017 include:

Feb 2016:

Changes to the evidence requirements for Writing and Interact

From 2016 the requirement for the Writing and Interact standards is a minimum of two pieces of evidence, as described in the recent Circular. The suggested word count and time requirements have not changed, as previous moderation has shown that most students were clearly meeting these within the first two pieces of evidence.

Where work submitted for moderation is work from 2015, two pieces of evidence should be submitted if they provide sufficient evidence to meet the standard, otherwise a maximum of three pieces can be submitted.

The moderation clarifications documents have been updated to reflect the changes made to the revised Conditions of Assessment.

May 2016

Submitting digital evidence

Students should be clearly identified in all interactions with the names on the audio files matching the student identifier on the moderation coversheet.

If evidence is not videoed there needs to be accompanying support material which identifies the speaker beyond simply stating who the first speaker is. For example, provide time codes or a short summary in English on two or three of the key things mentioned by the student.

Further guidance in submitting digital evidence can be accessed here.

Changes to the Clarifications documents for Writing and Presentation

The clarifications documents for these standards have been updated to reflect the guideline in the CoA that states that more than one opportunity for feedback on writing drafts may affect the authenticity of the work.

August 2016

Conditions of Assessment - authenticity

Language teachers are recommended to familiarise themselves with the 2016 Conditions of Assessment. These particularly include a reference to the importance of safeguarding the authenticity of student work with regard to the level of teacher feedback and feed forward. More than one opportunity for teacher feedback will compromise the authenticity of student work.

Feb 2017

Updates to Level 3 Achievement Standards

The Ministry of Education published updated versions for the Level 3 Achievement Standards in most subjects in November, 2016. The changes appear to be limited to a new planned review date of 31 December 2018, and Explanatory Note 1 now including a reference to Te Marautanga o Aotearoa for all subjects except Te Reo, English and Learning Languages. However, assessors are advised to check the revised Level 3 standards relating to their programmes against the previous versions. Both the new and the previous versions appear together on the relevant NZQA subject pages.

NCEA Languages Verification Process for Schools – 2017

External examinations – Cook Islands Maori, Korean, Lea Faka-Tonga

Updated 6 June 2017

Schools or clusters of schools will continue to produce their own activities for assessing candidates against NCEA external standards for Cook Islands Maori, Korean and Lea Faka-Tonga. Schools should use the relevant Assessment Specifications from the NZQA subject pages.

As for the previous year, the process to be followed depends on whether your individual school has developed and marked the assessments or whether your school is using cluster-developed and marked assessments.

Please be certain which process your school should follow for each of the languages.

Candidate Entries

All schools need to make candidate entries using the school provider code of the ‘assessing school’, i.e. the school that is responsible for the assessment, moderation and participating in the verification process for these standards.

The ‘assessing school’ will have a subject specialist teacher(s) in the language being assessed; standards based assessment expertise; and will follow processes as outlined in the Consent to Assess rules.

Where the school of enrolment and ‘assessing school’ are different organisations, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) must be in place between the two schools. NZQA has supplied a sample MoU to schools, which when completed must be held by individual schools. See your NZQA Principal Nominee for a copy.

Pre-assessment materials critique

Assessments, schedules and resources developed by schools or cluster groups need to be submitted to NZQA for a pre-assessment materials critique to ensure that they are fit for purpose.

Please take note of critiquer feedback, amend, and re-submit for a further critique if required.

All assessment material must be submitted on, (or preferably before) the end of Term 2, Friday 7 July.

Email to examinations@nzqa.govt.nz, attention Mary Ma’ilo, or courier to Secondary Examinations, attention Mary Ma’ilo, 125 The Terrace, Wellington, 6140

Conducting assessment

In all schools, assessments need to be completed by the end of Term 3, 29 September.

Schools which develop their own assessments may conduct these, once approved for use, at any date in Term 3.

Schools which choose to use assessments developed by a cluster of schools must ensure candidates are assessed at the same time and date agreed with the cluster.

Cluster schools are responsible for ensuring their student work is sent securely to the cluster for marking. Using a signature-required courier bag, or personal drop off is highly recommended.

Marking Verified Languages assessments

Schools using their own developed assessments will mark all their own candidates' work.

Candidate work from cluster-developed assessments will be marked and internally moderated by the cluster, overseen by the assessing school(s), or, in the case of Cook Islands Māori, marked by individual schools by arrangement with the cluster following the agreed common assessment schedule.

All schools and clusters must follow a documented process that mirrors their schools' internal moderation processes for confirming marking decisions.

Submission of materials for verification

Samples for verification should be submitted as soon as marking is complete. In all cases, submissions should reach NZQA on, or before, Wednesday 25 October.

For school-marked work, each school will send a copy of all assessment resources and eight marked samples of candidate work for each standard. Schools with fewer than eight entries for any one standard will submit all candidate work for that standard. Candidate work selected for verification should best represent the spread of results awarded in the school for each standard assessed.

For cluster-marked work, the cluster coordinator will send all assessment resources and eight marked samples of the candidate work for each standard directly to NZQA for verification.

Details of the submission process and materials for packing verification submissions to NZQA will be sent to schools or clusters in September 2017.

Provisional Results entry:

School-marked assessment schools will enter provisional results online prior to submitting candidate work for verification.

The provisional results entry page in schools' NZQA Provider login will be open for use from Monday 11 September 2017.

Cluster-marked assessment schools will not receive provisional results, and will not enter any results until they are finalised in late November.

The marking cluster will retain provisional results and candidate work until they receive the verification feedback directly from NZQA. The cluster will then review marking of non-verified work as needed and finalise results for all candidates.

NZQA will enter a Y code for all candidates involved in cluster assessments to over-ride the usual provisional results part of the process.

Online verification reports

School-marked assessments:

Verification reports by standard will be available from 20 November in the school's NZQA Provider login for individual schools that have submitted work for verification.

Instructions on accessing these will be available online in September. If you are unable to access the online instructions, please contact mary.maiolo@nzqa.govt.nz.

Please save a copy of each report for your records.

Schools will also see verified results for those candidates whose work was submitted to NZQA.

If the verifier has agreed with all assessment decisions made by the school for a standard, the provisional results entered by the school will roll over to final-result status and the school will not need to do anything else.

If the verifier does not agree with the assessment decisions made by the school, their decisions will be explained in the verification report. The school must review the report and re-mark all other candidates' work in the light of verifier feedback before entering final results.

Cluster- marked assessments:

Schools will not receive individual verification reports.

The verification report will be sent directly from NZQA to the cluster marking coordinator by 20 November. The cluster will review marking of all other candidates' work in the light of verifier feedback, and finalise the results for all candidates.

Final Results Entry

All Schools: Final results must be entered by schools no later than Friday 1 December.

Cluster-developed assessments: The assessing school(s) with the responsibility for assessment, moderation and participation in verification must send the final results to the school of enrolment for final results entry. The final results entry process involves overwriting the Y code for each candidate who sat the examination.

The cluster coordinator will arrange the return of candidate work to the school of enrolment.

Absence/ Derived Grade process

If a student is absent for the examination, the school's missed and late assessment policy and procedures must be applied.

The absence or impairment for a candidate must comply with NZQA's Derived Grade guidelines and be consistent with the school's missed and late assessment policy. The reason for the absence must be unforeseen or unavoidable and not wilful or for convenience.

The grade reported by the school is:

- to be from evidence gathered before the language examination was held
- based on valid, authentic, and standard specific evidence.

Work from candidates receiving a derived grade should not be sent for verification.

Appeal process

The NZQA appeal process applies only to candidate work submitted for verification. Schools will continue to manage their own policies and procedures for work that has not been sent for verification.

An appeal should be lodged where there is such a significant difference between the candidate's provisional and verified results that the school suspects that an assessment or processing error may have occurred. Schools seeking to appeal should download and complete the Languages Verification Appeal Form on the subject page.

All appeals should be with NZQA by 4 December.

Candidates' final results and work

Candidates must not be told their provisional or final results, or receive their marked work until all NCEA results are released in January 2018.

Candidate work submitted for verification will be returned to schools from 20 November onwards. Schools need to hold all candidate work to return to candidates the following year.

Presentation

Give a spoken presentation that communicates a personal response

Updated December 2016. The section on feedback and feed forward has been updated.

Feedback and feed forward on drafts

Teacher feedback and feed forward on students' drafts should be holistic to ensure that the final product remains a true representation of the student's ability. More than one opportunity for feedback will compromise authenticity. Complex language, with few or no errors, may indicate that too much feedback has been given.

Language should be the student's own work. Resources should be used appropriately and large chunks of lifted language should be either avoided completely or referenced and not included in the assessed work.

Content

These standards involve expressing personal information, ideas and opinions. In order to fulfil the NZC level requirements, the student must also show that they are able to communicate beyond the immediate context, for example, past and future events. The context for the presentation will decide whether students communicate about past and/or future events within the presentation.

The best presentations are to the point and close to the allocated times. Development does not equal length. Suggested time for a level 1 presentation is one minute.

The purpose of this presentation is delivery to an audience. This could be either a face to face or an online audience. Tasks should ensure that students will have a context which requires a presentation as opposed to a piece of writing, e.g. a video/podcast recording introducing yourself to an intended host family.

Communication and language

As this is a spoken presentation, inconsistencies do not relate solely to errors in vocabulary or grammar. Inconsistencies in communication may relate to the following: language features, pronunciation, intonation, rhythm patterns, delivery speed, audibility, stress patterns, tones. Incorrect language/inconsistencies will affect the grade to the extent that they hinder communication.

Language features should be taken into account when allocating a grade. A speaker who speaks very quickly without pausing appropriately for new sentences may have a presentation which, would receive Excellence as a piece of writing, but which will receive a Merit for this standard. Inconsistencies in delivery speed and stress patterns may mean that the communication of the message is hindered. Delivery may ultimately affect the grade.

The nature of the language features used will also be determined by the fact that this is a spoken presentation, e.g. at level 1 this could be the use of simple rhetorical questions such as 'don't you think?'

Delivery of presentation

Cue cards/text should only be used for support, and students may not read their presentation in its entirety. If they do so, they cannot be awarded the standard.

Interact

Interact to communicate personal information, ideas and opinions in different situations

Updated December 2016. This document has been updated to include language features.

Language Features

A repertoire of language features and strategies to maintain the interaction is required for this standard. For this reason, it does not produce evidence towards this standard if students write and learn scripted role plays by heart, or otherwise prepare the total interaction beforehand. Indicators of the ability to maintain an interaction will not be evident in such exchanges.

Features and strategies such as pausing, negotiating meaning, prompting, seeking clarification etc. can only be seen in evidence when the student is unaware of all questions that are asked, and has not prepared all answers. For this reason, the use of cue cards would also render evidence invalid.

Interactions where students can react in a genuine way, and where they are able to naturally control the direction of the interaction, give students the opportunity to meet the criteria.

Range

The standard calls for a minimum of two interactions, and these must be in different situations. This will mean that the context and/or purpose and/or type will be different for each interaction, e.g. negotiating the best way to spend a Saturday evening with friends will necessitate different language from a discussion of what students did in the holidays.

Assessing the collection of evidence

The grade will be awarded for the collection of interactions assessed as a whole, i.e. each interaction will not be assessed individually - the grade will be derived from the overall quality of the work. Students must show that they are working consciously and reasonably consistently at the level, rather than accidentally and occasionally.

The sample tasks suggest about three minutes interaction in total for level 1.

Language

Incorrect language/inconsistencies will only affect a grade if they hinder communication. It is important to note that accuracy is not a criterion of this standard. In a realistic conversation by learners of a second language errors are natural and should not be overly penalised.

Whilst inconsistencies that do not affect communication will not affect the grade, for Excellence, there needs to be sufficient language, outside the language with errors, that contributes to the criteria of successful use of a range language.

At level 1, students will show evidence of language to communicate personal information, ideas and opinions. Over the collected evidence there will be evidence of each of these.

In order to fulfil the NZC level requirements, the student must also show that, within the collected evidence, they are able to communicate beyond the immediate context, for example about past and/or future events (NZC levels 5 and 6 Learning Languages).

Writing

Write a variety of text types on areas of most immediate relevance

Updated December 2016. The section on feedback and feed forward has been updated.

Feedback and feed forward on drafts

Teacher feedback and feed forward on students' drafts should be holistic to ensure that the final product remains a true representation of the student's ability. More than one opportunity for feedback will compromise authenticity. Complex language, with few or no errors, may indicate that too much feedback has been given.

Use of resources

Authentic texts, native speakers, exemplars and digital tools are resources. Students need to be aware that they cannot copy large chunks of text, and that they must adapt and rework the language. Students need to reference direct text in their work, and this will not count as evidence of language. It is inappropriate to have native speakers providing large chunks of language or correcting drafts.

Text type

The context and/or purpose and/or text type (a minimum of two) will be different for each piece, e.g. at level 1 a personal email to a French host family, a blog posting on the class French site about an activity that has taken place and their opinion about it, an invitation to a future party including instructions on what to bring, etc.

Curriculum level

The standard requires students to use language related to basic personal information and past, present and/or future experiences. Whilst students are free to use all language they have at their disposal, the task cannot expect students to use language beyond that required to achieve the standard.

NZC level 6 requires students to communicate beyond the immediate context, e.g. about past and/or future events. The past/future does not, however, have to be used in all pieces of writing.

Assessing the collection of evidence

The grade will be awarded for the pieces of writing assessed as a whole, i.e. each piece will not be assessed individually; rather, the grade will be derived from the overall quality of the work. Students must show that they are working consciously and reasonably consistently at the level, rather than accidentally and occasionally.

Incorrect language/inconsistencies will only affect a grade if they hinder communication. Whilst inconsistencies that do not affect communication will not affect the grade, for Excellence, there needs to be sufficient language, outside the language with errors, that contributes to the criteria of capable selection and successful use of language.

The sample tasks suggest the following approximate word/character/kana count for level 1: 300 characters for Chinese, 600 kana for Japanese, or 300 words for all other languages. These are a realistic expectation of the amount that may be needed to provide sufficient evidence from which to make a judgement. At all times quality is more important than quantity.
